

Press Release

February 11, 2014

Imabiotech invited by the French President, M. François Hollande during his visit in United-States of America.

ImaBiotech President, Jonathan Stauber has been invited to accompany the French president, M. Francois Hollande, to meet with various renowned US companies (such as Facebook, Google, Twitter, etc...) and to promote French Entrepreneurs on Wednesday February 12.

The selected French companies are part of a group of about 30 ambitious & innovative companies in the field of Telecommunication, Internet and Biotechnologies (G2J, Carmat, Hybrigenics, kisskissbankbank, BosstHeat, EasyVista, etc...).

« This trip represents a new opportunity for ImaBiotech, after establishing our US subsidiary with the support of Ubifrance. It is a significant step forward in being recognized as a mature international company providing state-of-the-art imaging technologies and innovative imaging software “ says Jonathan Stauber, ImaBiotech CEO/CSO.

About ImaBiotech:

Founded in 2010, ImaBiotech is a biotech company which develops new molecular imaging tools for biomedical research. ImaBiotech offers Research & Development Services and imaging software in order to improve and accelerate new drug development in different therapeutic areas. ImaBiotech is actually developing in countries in Europe and USA via its American Subsidiary and its distribution network.

Contact:

ImaBiotech SAS
885 Avenue Eugene Avinée
59120 Loos France
Tel. (+33) 320 164 091
Email. contact@imabiotech.com
Website. www.imabiotech.com

